

AL-NOOR CENTRE OF EDUCATION

Spot the Error / Test # 10

28-June-2010

Booklet No.

1. There are two long benches stage Right, back to back, one faces the audience and one faced the rear wall.
A B C
No error.
D
2. I walked near enough to the car to be heard if I had called. No error.
A B C D
3. The front door of the car was open and someone were standing by it. No error.
A B C D
4. If people are smart they wouldn't be out on a night like this. No error.
A B C D
5. The Girl rushes after him, slamming the door and threw the bolt once more. No error.
A B C D
6. However, my only wish is that you marry someone hard-working ambitious, a man who would make his mark in the world. No error.
A B C D
7. Perhaps we'd better left the house until the Army gets here. No error.
A B C D
8. I'm sure if we shall him, he'll move that thing for us. No error.
A B C D
9. I was sure you're teasing us and this is all some kind of publicity stunt. No error.
A B C D
10. I know that in few minutes a number of people from your Army will be here to torn by doubt. No error.
A B C D
11. Each one travels who wants to. It's just that no one wants to visit you. No error.
A B C D
12. Look, I didn't want to play games I just want to know where you're from. No error.
A B C D
13. It's possible that I can explain it to a mathematician but I'm afraid I couldn't explain it to you. No error.
A B C D
14. You'll die all right if it will turn out you're a spy are a hostile alien. No error.
A B C D
15. And it's made of an unknown metal who shines and inside there isn't anything. No error.
A B C D
16. You claim you travelled here from outer space in a machine with instruments. No error.
A B C D
17. Spelding rises, lead Kreton and Powers into next room, a handsome furnished study, many books and a globe of the world. No error.
A B C D
18. I wonder how much damages he did to my rose garden. No error.
A B C D
19. It means we had to do what General Powers tells us to do. No error.
A B C D
20. How I am to call home to say where I am? No error.
A B C D
21. That I am either a lunatic from the earth or spy from another world. No error.
A B C D
22. We used to but since we see everything through special monitors and recreators, there was no particular need to travel. No error.
A B C D
23. He rises, goes into living room. Power and AIDE look at one another. No error.
A B C D
24. I didn't mind curiosity but I really can't permit them to wreck my poor ship. No error.
A B C D

25. Well, I should have come ages ago but I ... I couldn't get away until yesterday. No error.
A B C D
26. I hope you'll stay with us while you will be here. No error.
A B C D
27. It's one of the reason I'm here, to intoxicate myself with your primitive minds...with the wonderful rawness of your emotions. No error.
A B C D
28. Unfortunately, until I have received word from Washington as to the final disposition of this problems, you must obeyed my orders. No error.
A B C D
29. That would solve everything, didn't it? No error.
A B C D
30. Go right ahead, Roger I hope you'll do better than I did. No error.
A B C D
31. Since you read our minds, you probably all ready know what our fears are. No error.
A B C D
32. And I had assured General Powers that my people area not remotely hostile. No error.
A B C D
33. It is my view that you have been sent there by another civilization for the express purpose of reconnoitring prior than invasion. No error.
A B C D
34. You refuse your people intend to make trouble for us? No error.
A B C D
35. Then are they interested establishing communication with us? Trade? The kind of thing. No error.
A B C D
36. I am sure you'll be much happier and it will be great fun for me. You'll get use to it in no times. No error.
A B C D
37. Powers and AIDE, rushes Kreton but within a foot of him, they stop, stunned. No error.
A B C D
38. Now, if you will not mind, I shall go up to my room for a little lie-down. No error.
A B C D
39. I shall be here in the morning when you will wake up. No error.
A B C D
40. On the other hand, you may turn out to be the one man hidden away in the junk of the world which will bring merriment to the tired old human heart. No error.
A B C D
41. I give you a haircut free of charge, you gave me a haircut free of charge. That's fair and square. No error.
A B C D
42. Now, wait a minute, Clay let I get this straight. Where is your father. No error.
A B C D
43. We're living of the money we saved from the summer we worked, but there ain't much left. No error.
A B C D
44. Harry takes off the derby, lathers his face and begin to shave with a straight-edge razor. No error.
A B C D
45. Well, I was mistaken. I was looking, and I've found exactly what I was looking. No error.
A B C D
46. I thought if I could watched them on a Saturday I might understand them better. No error.
A B C D
47. She sits almost angrily in the chair and speak very softly. No error.
A B C D
48. I don't know how gave a poodle haircut, but even if I know how, I wouldn't do it. No error.
A B C D
49. Few minutes later he found himself outside a large Western music shop. No Error.
A B C D
50. I dreamt I fly out of the window in my nightshirt. No Error.
A B C D